Policies and tools for enforcement of environmental compliance – a regional seminar with Eastern Partner countries

17-18 November 2021

Background

Enforcement is an integral component of the environmental compliance assurance chain. It refers to action that public authorities take to bring non-compliant entities into compliance with environmental regulations. Enforcement action can consist of administrative or criminal sanctions, or a requirement for the polluter to remedy environmental damage caused. The concept of environmental liability implies that the polluter that has caused environmental damage has financial responsibility for the damage, and is set out in the EU Environmental Liability Directive (ELD).

The six EU Eastern Partner (EaP) countries use a variety of penalties for enforcing environmental compliance. Some of them are in the process of revising their provisions for environmental liability, environmental penalties and environmental damage assessment.

The European Union for Environment (EU4Environment) Action supports their reform priorities with the goal of strengthening their environmental compliance assurance systems and liability regimes.

The first EU4Environment regional seminar on environmental compliance assurance was held virtually on 25 November 2020 and allowed participants to discuss risk-based approaches to environmental compliance assurance.

Meeting objectives, expected outputs and outcomes

This second regional seminar will provide its participants from EaP and OECD economies an opportunity to share and discuss findings of two environmental compliance assurance reviews of EaP countries, of Armenia and the Republic of Moldova, that the OECD carried out in 2020-2021. It will also discuss characteristics of a clear and comprehensive environmental enforcement policy, tools at the disposal of authorities to enforce compliance, and the optimal combination of penalties for non-compliance.

Participants

Participants will include representatives from EaP countries and OECD member countries as well as the European Union Network for the Implementation and Enforcement of Environmental Law (IMPEL) and the European Network of Prosecutors for the Environment (ENPE).

The seminar is funded under the EU4Environment Action programme.

Practical information

This 2-day meeting will be held on 17-18 November 2021 via the Zoom platform. Participants can register for the meeting using the following link:
